Collection VISION 2024

LE MARQUIER, THE FRENCH EXTERIOR KITCHEN SPECIALIST, UNVEILS A BOLD AND EFFECTIVE COLLECTION 2024

As a major manufacturer committed to an environmentally friendly approach, we are proud of our efficient and innovative French production facilities. In a market dominated by imported products, our French commitment makes perfect sense, and our conviction is all the stronger for it.

For over 53 years, we have been designing, drawing and manufacturing high-quality products in France that are built to last. Our expertise enables us to offer products that meet today's needs and tomorrow's challenges.

All our products manufactured in our workshop in Saint-Martin-de-Seignanx, in the south of the Landes, carry the OFG (Origine France Garantie) label, the only guarantee that they are made in France. Our collections are created in collaboration with top French brands (Stellantis Design Studio, De Buyer, Larousse, Terre Exotique, etc.) and whenever possible with local partners.

Choosing cleaner energy sources, appropriate materials and industrial investments, and short supply chains is a natural part of our environmental approach. We also offer a Lifetime Warranty and/or commit to repair our products.

To meet all consumer expectations, our 2024 COLLECTION is packed with new products:

- Designed in collaboration with the Stellantis Design Studio, a brand new French griddle, the Plancha ORIGINAL, offers consumers an all-in-one solution, complete with trolley, shelves and lid (available in Electric or Gas versions).
- The Brasero ORIGINAL for dreaming by the fire.
- A brand-new, high-performance electric pizza oven (available in two models), the SIGNATURE Pizza Oven.
- New kitchen furniture to add to our collection.

Finally, to delight outdoor cooking fans, we've got a new, even tastier recipe book and soon-to-be-essential accessories!

Thank you for your trust and loyalty.

LA VIE EST BELLE, LET'S ENJOY IT!

Dynamic and committed French company

1971

The history of Maison LE MARQUIER began in 1971, in an ironworks shop in Petit Bayonne, in the Basque Country. The world of fire gave rise to the first fireplace accessories. It didn't take long for their creations to become a hit, and they were displayed in the windows of Parisian boutiques.

To grow and expand, the ironworks workshop moved to a different neighborhood of Bayonne, the Forum.

In 1986, the first innovative outdoor cooking products were launched: vertical cooking barbecues. Another success for the company, allowing us to move from small-scale to industrial production thanks to the construction of a 15,000m² factory in Saint-Martin-de-Seignanx, in the south of Landes.

Today, this factory is the heart of the company.

1995

The launch of the first Plancha in 1995 - the new bestseller - marked a new turning point for the company.

2013

In 2013, Origine France Garantie certification was awarded to LE MARQUIER planchas, barbecues* and fireplace accessories.

2017

In 2017, LE MARQUIER changed its name to Maison LE MARQUIER. Régis Flusin, the current chairman, purchased the company with his partner Bruno Mabile.

With a wealth of experience in the barbecue market, Régis is committed to developing the company by manufacturing in France, respecting the environment and building a committed brand.

2019

In 2019, LE MARQUIER became the exclusive French distributor of the American pellet barbecue brand TRAERER.

2020

In 2020, Maison LE MARQUIER was distinguished by its strong socio-environmental engagement: the lifetime guarantee and the repair packages for planchas.

2022

In 2022, LE MARQUIER began the transformation of its visual identity and its differentiation with the launch of its first collection, the "Outdoor kitchen".

2024

From the outset, the company has been committed to manufacturing in France. Today, it is proud to employ more than 80 people who, with care and passion, design and manufacture top-quality products in our workshop every day.

Conviviality, innovation, excellence and authenticity : the DNA of LE MARQUIER has been present throughout its history.

Logo & visual identity

LOGO EVOLUTION: STRONG VALUES REAFFIRMED

When the company was acquired in 2017, the brand's DNA was redefined and some minor adjustments were made to the original logo.

Today embarked on a new dynamic, Maison LEMARQUIER is initiating a change of strategy and therefore wishes that its logo embodies the current values of the brand.

To achieve this, the brand's identity was rejuvenated and modernized, giving rise to a new logo.

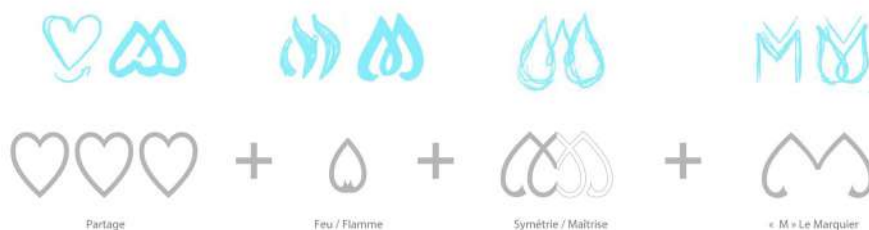

LE MARQUIER's new visual identity is the expression of its vision, its DNA and its new strategy.

ENERGY

ELECTRIC = THE FUTURE

The cleanest¹ energy, coupled with radiant technology: faster², stronger², cleaner¹.
As efficient as a gas griddle.

More practical: ideal for urban settings, balconies and patios; just plug in and go!

GAS = TRADITIONAL

Ideal for back yards because it has greater mobility, and it doesn't need to be plugged into an outlet.

Powerful: up to 420 °C (Amalia).

Very low energy consumption³:

- the surface area to be heated is smaller (vs. volume to be heated for charcoal grills)
- stainless steel burners don't warp (vs. steel), thus avoiding excessive gas consumption
- cast-iron plate retains and distributes heat

VERTICAL COOKING: HEALTHY & TASTY COOKING

Double-burner charcoal grills allow food to be cooked traditionally on the grill and on the rotisserie skewer with the vertical burner. This healthy method of cooking keeps food from coming into direct contact with smoke and flames. The English skewer does not puncture the meat, to fully preserve flavor and tenderness.

TECHNOLOGY 2.0: 3D CONFIGURATOR

In order to support dealers in the sales process by helping customers design their own projects, we have developed a 3D configurator in partnership with a French company. The 3D configurator allows you to combine cabinets to create a custom kitchen. The dimensions will be automatically calculated and, with the augmented reality system, customers can visualize their configuration on their patio.

Discover our new 3D
configurator

USING AUGMENTED REALITY

After making your custom outdoor kitchen by using our 3D configurator on a computer, you can visualize it in your home with augmented reality! Here's how it works:

1/ Generate a QR code by clicking on "SEE AT HOME", then scan the code with your cell phone.

2/ The camera should launch automatically. If not, click on "See in AR". Now you can visualize your outdoor kitchen in your home!

3/ If you're happy with your configuration, go back to your computer and click on "Summary of your configuration". You have several options: you can save your configuration, print the summary or have it emailed to you.

The choice is yours!

If you don't like your configuration, you can change it on the 3D configurator and start again!

FAQ FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

ELECTRIC GRIDDLE

How to light your griddle.

1. Make sure the thermostat knob(s) are set to 0 before connecting the griddle's plug to your power source. On the Vintage Electrica model, the green LED lights up to indicate that the device is switched on.
2. Set the temperature by turning the thermostat knob(s). The heater starts up and the indicator(s) light(s) up.
3. When the cooking surface reaches the set temperature, the griddle stops heating and the indicator light switches off automatically. The LED lights up again when the temperature of the cast-iron plate is lower than the thermostat setting. The unit will switch on and off to maintain the temperature set by the user. You can set the temperature from 0 to 300°C when cooking.

Precautions:

Before cooking, preheat the griddle for about 10 minutes on the highest setting.
After cooking, set the thermostat knob to 0 and disconnect the power supply.
When you've finished using your griddle, store it in a dry place.

GAS GRIDDLE

Which gas should you choose for your griddle? Butane or propane?

Le Marquier GAS GRIDDLES can run on butane gas (regulator set at 28 mbar) or propane (regulator set at 37 mbar) without further adjustment.
You can use either type of gas outdoors in the summer. In winter, when temperatures fall below 0°C, only propane gas will not freeze.

How to light your griddle.

1. Open the gas cylinder (open the regulator valve, then press the safety reset button).
2. Turn and hold the griddle control knob to the high flame position (large circle) and press the piezo: you will hear a clicking sound and the piezo spark will ignite the burner. For models with thermocouple protection, press and hold the control knob for another 5-10 seconds to activate the thermocouple protection. When first used, it is necessary to press the piezo several times so that the gas reaches the griddle burner.
3. Turn the knob to adjust the flame height.

How to clean your griddle, so you can keep cooking

The enamel coating keeps food drippings on the surface of the plate. Add a little water, and scrub with a spatula. This is called deglazing, and it allows you to continue cooking.

How to clean your griddle when you've finished cooking (see diagram on page 134)

It only takes a minute to clean your griddle plate!
Cleaning should be done when the griddle is switched off but still warm. If it is not still warm, leave the burners on for a few minutes.

To clean your griddle, we recommend using a little water, LE MARQUIER cleaner and a stainless steel scrubber.
Note: Do not use ice cubes, because they will create a thermal shock on the plate and damage it.

How to cook on the griddle

Before turning on your griddle, remember to tilt your griddle according to your chosen cooking mode (not tilted to cook with drippings and tilted to drain the drippings). Food can be pre-marinated or cooked directly on the griddle. Simply heat the griddle on the low setting (small flames) for around 10 minutes, then oil your griddle (if the food has not been marinated beforehand) and place the food on it. Sear the pieces slightly, so you can turn them over without sticking. Grease and drippings run down into the stainless steel drip tray. You can cook almost anything on a griddle, such as meat, fish, shellfish, vegetables and fruit.

What is the best cooking temperature?

The ideal temperature for cooking is between 250°C and 300°C. Beware of misconceptions: at temperatures above 330°C, food can burn and lose all flavor.

Why should you choose a griddle with stainless steel burners?

The burners are the heat sources for your griddle. It is essential the the burners are of the best quality. Stainless steel products offer excellent resistance to corrosion, long-term durability and low, constant gas consumption. Unlike steel burners, the gas outlet holes on stainless steel burners will not enlarge over time. A stainless steel burner consumes two times less gas than a steel burner.

CHARCOAL GRILL

What fuel should you use for charcoal grills?

Use charcoal only to avoid damaging your charcoal grill.* Do not use wood or vine shoots, because they may damage your appliance (except THE LE BARBECUE FRANÇAIS CHARCOAL GRILL and the Original Brasero). Do not use liquid or gel lighting fluid, because they may drip into the ash drawer.

*The LE BARBECUE FRANÇAIS CHARCOAL GRILL and the Original Brasero can also use wood.

How to set up your charcoal grill

To set up your charcoal grill correctly, place it on a stable, heat-resistant horizontal surface (e.g. firebrick), leaving a 10 cm gap between the back of the grill and the wall, to ensure sufficient air circulation to prevent warping.

If your charcoal grill is placed directly on the counter top, it must be raised by at least 3 cm to prevent the ash drawer from warping due to poor air circulation under the grill.

How to mount your charcoal grill

The maximum thickness of the counter top into which the charcoal grill can be mounted, without blocking the ash drawer, is 6.5 cm.

How to light your charcoal grill

1. Depending on the cooking method chosen, place a first layer of charcoal in the bottom of the vertical or horizontal firebox. Take some solid fire-starters, commonly sold in stores, and place them on top of the charcoal.
2. Spread another layer of charcoal to fill up the firebox to 3/4 of its capacity. Depending on use, replace the grid or rotisserie skewer support in the guides.
3. The charcoal grill must be heated and the fuel kept glowing for 30 minutes before beginning to cook. Before cooking, wait for a layer of ash to cover the fuel.

Precautions

Do not light both fireboxes at the same time (except the Méchoui model). Use the horizontal firebox for grilling and the vertical firebox for rotisserie cooking.

Using the charcoal grill requires a minimum of supervision and care. The charcoal grill gets extremely hot. Do not move the grill while in use. Do not use in enclosed spaces. Do not use alcohol, gasoline or similar liquids to light or restart the charcoal grill.

ROTISSERIE

How to operate your rotisserie

1. Place the piece to be cooked on the rotisserie.
2. Tighten the butterfly clamps on the side rails and place the assembly on the feet provided.
3. Adjust pillar spacing and cooking height.
4. If your rotisserie is equipped with weights, they need to be balanced.

Precautions:

WEIGHT:

The 4 weights are used to counterbalance any imbalance in the pieces to be roasted; they can be adjusted using the butterfly clamps on each weight.

MOTOR:

Before working on the rotisserie while it is running, turn off the motor to avoid damaging the gears.
